ABOUT DNS RICM, PATNA

Established by the Agriculture Credit Department of Reserve Bank of India in the year 1954-55, DNS Regional Institute of Cooperative Management, Patna is one of the 20 residential Institutes of Cooperative Management in India run by the National Council for Cooperative Training (NCCT), New Delhi and 100% financed and promoted by the Ministry of Cooperation, Government of India. In October 1997 the Institute was elevated as Regional Institute of Cooperative Management enabling to make its activities more broad-based.

NCCT, New Delhi being a central agency for overall planning, monitoring and implementing various training programmes for the personnel of the Cooperative Department / Cooperative Institutions and other allied institutions of the state with a focus on the professional requirements of the cooperative personnel.

The main objective of the Institute is to develop Human Resources in the cooperative movement for effective, efficient and professionalized cooperative management with a view to make the cooperative movement to face the emerging challenges from globalized and liberalized economic scenario .In pursuance of the above objectives the Institute caters to the management training needs of the Department and Institutional personnel of Bihar and a few N-E states and Union Territories.

ABOUT THE SEMINAR

The DNS Regional Institute of Cooperative Management (DNSRICM), Patna, in collaboration with Chanakya National Law University (CNLU), Patna, is organizing a seminar on the theme "Cooperatives Build a Better World." This seminar aims to foster academic discussions and insights on the pivotal role of cooperatives in promoting sustainable development, social equity, and economic empowerment.

The seminar will provide a platform for students, academicians, and professionals to explore the legal, economic, and social dimensions of the cooperative movement. It will focus on how cooperatives contribute to inclusive growth, financial stability, and community-driven development while addressing contemporary challenges in the cooperative sector.

As part of this initiative, all students, researchers, working professionals, academicians, and cooperators of India are invited to contribute scholarly articles on the seminar's theme. Selected articles will be presented during the seminar, offering participants an opportunity to engage with experts and policymakers in the field. Through this seminar, DNSRICM and CNLU aim to encourage critical thinking, research, and dialogue on how cooperatives can serve as catalysts for a better, more equitable world.
